

Kabira Technologies™ and Planet Consulting Sign Joint Marketing Agreement

Companies Partner to Offer their Combined Products and Services to North American Payments and Financial Services Enterprises

San Mateo, CA - USA — June 5, 2008 — Kabira Technologies, Inc., a leader in high-performance transaction processing software for global enterprises, today announced Planet Consulting, Inc., a division of Planet Group, Inc. as the latest member of its Global Partner Program. Under their agreement, Kabira® and Planet Consulting will develop and implement joint-marketing efforts to generate new revenue opportunities throughout North America.

“Working with Kabira is an ideal business venture for Planet,” said Mark Spurgeon, President of Planet Consulting, Inc. “Their transaction platform is built for performance, fault tolerance and flexibility, which fits well with our expertise and offerings within the payments industry. We are excited about the new revenue opportunities this partnership will generate.”

“Planet Consulting has for many years been a widely respected name in the North American payments and financial services marketplace,” said Chris Clabaugh, Vice President of Business Development at Kabira. “We believe that the combination of Kabira’s low-latency, high-throughput transaction platform and associated applications, with Planet’s deep vertical expertise will prove to be a compelling offer for organizations of all sizes that are looking to address legacy application and infrastructure shortcomings.”

The agreement enables Planet to offer Kabira products and services to both companies’ customers across the region. Planet consultants have been fully trained on Kabira’s market-leading transactional platform and payments applications, and the companies anticipate undertaking immediate joint activities to better serve the needs of each other’s customer and prospect base. In addition, Planet will provide staff augmentation to assist Kabira customers in addressing the significant demand for implementation of Kabira’s applications.

Since 1996, Planet Consulting of Omaha, Nebraska, has provided companies of all sizes with the information technology consulting and staff augmentation they require to perform and complete their IT initiatives. Planet’s key differentiator is its ability to attract, recruit and hire highly qualified information technology professionals who meet an organization’s specific IT needs. Planet Consulting offers unmatched breadth and depth of real world technology solutions that ultimately enable businesses to respond effectively to changes in the marketplace.
